

Don't Shop There

Woolworths is intent on building a supermarket in Maleny. 79% of residents oppose the development on that site.* There are serious unresolved traffic problems and construction will compromise an established platypus colony.

The community raised $2m to buy back the site. Woolworths and the developer refused to sell. They're going ahead regardless. We invite you to show Woolworths that their customers think about more than just low prices... that the integrity of a rural town is also important.

Shop elsewhere. When profits go down perhaps corporate responsibility will rise.
